

“The Great Announcement”

April 10, 2020 – Livestream Prophetic Word

Pastor Dawn Rene’ McCann

For I am the Lord. I am the Lord that never fails. My arm is not short. When My people call upon My name, the name that is above every name, I am here and I come to their aid. Even now as so many are calling upon My name, Heaven is taking notice. Heaven is dispatching that which is necessary to turn the tide against the enemy once again. My name will be glorified even through this season. It cannot be planned, it cannot be preplanned by humankind, but it was preplanned with supernatural intervention, planned before the foundations of the world. Now I am offering My salvation once again, salvation from the tactics of the enemy, salvation for that which has been discarded, for that which has been left aside, from a lack of hungering and thirsting after Me.

I am bringing activation, I am bringing renewal, I am bringing restoration to the Body of Christ that has been broken, and has been taken aside and been discarded, abused among so many. But I the Lord God Almighty still reign, and I have a bride that is being prepared. I have a bride that is getting hungry. She is making herself ready. I have a bride that will not let her oil go out. I have a bride that will keep herself stirred by the presence of My Holy Spirit. I have a bride that will pray in the Spirit, and intercede in My Spirit. I have a bride that will receive by the Spirit the things that man cannot explain, the things that only I can speak in our secret place, as they come into the place of secret with Me.

As you come before Me and humble yourself, you will find Me with your answers. You will find Me with answers for others. You will find Me and understand. To those that are called by My name, and those that will call upon My name, I will reveal the tactics and strategies of the enemy and I will reveal My tactics and the strategies of Heaven.

There is a great uprising; there is an upheaval that is in the works. There are things being toppled, and there are things being put back into place by My strong right arm.

My name is salvation. And I have come to save. I have come to reconcile, I have come to reboot, I have come to lift up and to release you as those that have a voice. Not just a voice of your own, but a voice that is empowered by the very Spirit that raised My Son from the dead. You have same Spirit. With one cry and with one voice you will see the bondage of the enemy broken.

Today is the time to rejoice. Today is the time to lift My name on high. With the praise of your lips, let it shatter the plans of the enemy. Let it shatter him and see what I will do.

Look and behold Me. Look and behold Me.

Look and see what I have done.

In their own efforts, many have tried. There has been so much said about invading into the areas of society, so that My name will be known, and there will be things that will come.

But now I have secured the opportunity for those who are called by My name to not only invade those areas, but to invade with My power, with My truth.

It's not just knowledge, not just wisdom that goes beyond natural wisdom, not just the ability to do things that are supernatural, but [the ability] that will come upon the natural and begin to shift things even further.

Even those things that have been said could never be done.

No, I have my hand on My sons & daughters. I have My hand on My bride.

I will cause them to arise in the midst of this storm, I will cause them to arise in the midst of this darkness.

They will release light; they will begin to release my strategies; they will begin to release the answers.

Even those things man has said will never be cured, I am bringing the cure for. You can count on Me. You cannot count on what people are saying. You cannot count on the natural, but you can count on Me coming, on your behalf when you call on the name, when you call upon the power of the name, when you continue to call. You must continue to call.

Do not call Me in the storm and forget Me when the storm ceases.

See what great wonders I will bring, see what great things that will be bestowed upon you.

I will cure cancer. I will bring the remedy to that which the enemy has frightened so many with, and held so many in bondage. Do you not know, have you not heard that I am able, that I am mighty, that I am coming to your defense?

I have defeated the enemy. For those things that you can believe Me for, I will bring the victory.

If you enter into this season of faith, if you enter into this season and grab ahold of truth, you will know Who I am and what I have provided. All of the sacrifice is not in vain because My people will arise with a new awareness and a new word upon their lips. They will seek Me until they find the answers. I will reveal Myself through the very answers that people need.

I will reveal My greatness, I will reveal My mercy, I will reveal My compassion, I will reveal My power, which is over all the power of the enemy. He is a defeated foe.

My bride will begin to operate in a new realm. My bride will begin to operate in the power that I gave through My sacrifice.

They will see themselves differently; they will walk differently. They will talk with authority, walk in dominion again. They will not be badgered; they will not let the naysayers have any effect on them, for they will see the covering of My blood, that they are in My high tower, in the secret place, even when they are out in the open.

They will come and release the words that are needed; they will release the vision that is needed.

I am gathering My people. I am causing a great announcement to occur:

That I am the God that heals you, I am the God that sets you free, I am the God that changes not, I am the God that watches over My Word to perform it. And I will perform the Word which you will come into agreement with Me in faith. I will watch, and I will work through you to bring about the intended original result of the sacrifice of My very Son.

So come. Come to Me with gladness, come to Me and ask. Come to Me and believe. Come to Me and announce the good news to others. Ready yourself for the influx. Ready yourself for those that will come hungry, seeking truth, and be ready to bring them the truth that they need. Receive My truth. Receive my truth. You are chosen. You are empowered. You are my very own.

Now arise. Arise and do my bidding. Arise into your proper positioning. See yourself in the proper place of authority and join Me in the procession of victory because of My Son. Proclaim His name. Jesus Christ is Lord. Hallelujah.
